

TRIPLE T JUMPS

SAFETY INSTRUCTIONS AND RULES

DELIVERY:

- Before every delivery our jumps are cleaned, disinfected & inspected for safety, and operation.
- Our delivery person will set the jump unit up in the location of your choice, UNLESS IT IS NOT PRACTICAL OR SAFE TO DO SO.
- Once the inflatable is placed in the location of your choice you can not move the inflatable. You may call the Triple T Jumps manager to have it moved by driver, but there is no guarantee that we will have the ability to move the jump.

POWER:

- The blower (the unit that blows up your jump), runs on electricity and can plug into any standard 110-120 volt outlet. WE CANNOT PLACE YOUR JUMP MORE THAN 100 FEET FROM AN ELECTRICAL OUTLET.
- No other electrical cords should be plugged in to that outlet while the blower is in operation.
- For sites at public parks, etc. where electrical power might not be available, we will supply you with a generator at an additional charge. The blower unit uses 12 Amps of power. Generators come with a 5 Hr supply of Gasoline.

WEATHER POLICY:

- If severe weather conditions occurs such as rain, high winds, etc. during your rental; get all of the children out of the unit, and unplug the blower from the outlet.
- When the weather subsides you may plug the blower back in to the outlet and inflate the jump.
- Allow jump to completely dry before allowing your children back into jump.

SHOULD THE BOUNCE HOUSE BEGIN TO DEFLATE:

- Get the children out of bounce immediately.
- If the motor has stopped - check the cord connection at the outlet and at the motor. Remember use of more than one extension cord can trip the circuit breaker.
- If the inflatable starts to deflate - check the air intake on the side of the motor for blockage. Check both tubes on the back of the inflatable for snugness and retie if necessary.
- If the inflatable's stakes come loose, pull the corner back and re-stake.
- Should the inflatable deflate, or if you experience any other problems with the equipment, please call us at the following 858-569-8881.
